

Clinical Athletic Trainers as Integral Part of Orthopedic Hand Team

Learning Objectives

- Emphasize value of AT in hand clinic.
- Review skills ATs bring to hand clinic
- Interprofessional team and where we fit in/our role.

Allison Barloon MS, LAT, ATC, BCS-O

Allison Barloon is currently a Clinical Athletic Trainer at the University of Iowa. She works with the orthopedic hand and trauma teams, as well as with the sports medicine team. She completed her B.S. in Athletic Training from Simpson College ('14) and her Masters in Sport and Exercise Psychology from SUIE ('16). She has also completed the Athletic Training Residency program at the University of Iowa in 2019. In addition to clinical experience, she has worked in the collegiate and high school levels.