Rachel Reimann MS, LAT, ATC

Rachel is a clinical athletic trainer for the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics. She completed her bachelors program in athletic training at Luther College and post professional masters program in athletic training at A.T. Still University in Mesa, Arizona. After receiving her masters, she went back to Iowa to complete the athletic training orthopedic residency at University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics, where she was hired on as staff after residency. She primarily works with the hand and trauma surgeons and has recently been helping a pediatric surgeon in clinic as well. She serves as a preceptor for the athletic training residency and MSAT program at Iowa.
